

Porpoise Evans

Office Managing Shareholder, Littler

D. Porpoise Evans is the Miami Office Managing Shareholder at Littler Mendelson, the world's largest law firm devoted exclusively to Labor & Employment. He advises public and private companies on an array of employment law matters. He also conducts in-market risk assessments for multinational companies, preparing policies and procedures and training employees on compliance with the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act. Porpoise recently completed a two-year term as Board President for Legal Services of Greater Miami. In his spare time, he can be found growing exotic peppers and listening to Afro-Cuban jazz.
